Corning's dedication to world-class materials engineering. MOLYKOTE compressor oils meet or exceed the performance of comparable OEM fill products. Except for L-3232 and L-3246, they are all compatible with mineral oils and systems designed for mineral oil lubrication. And Dow Corning can perform oil analysis to ensure that you get the product you need for your unique applications and that product life is maximized.

What's more, MOLYKOTE compressor oils will help you save money and time by reducing stagnant lubricant inventory, eliminating or decreasing production downtime, reducing energy consumption, and simplifying waste management.
